A point of view . . .
 makes the difference in education. The way you look at college is the important thing. A thousand moods . . . hundreds of ideas . . . intangibles: these are elements that explain why Moorhead State College will give you any kind of education you want. On these pages you will see the best of the many facets of Moorhead State.

. . . from your point of view.

A walk east from 11th Street and 7th Avenue South across the next four blocks of concrete and lawn will convince even a skeptic that our college is expanding.

The community views the school as a growing reason for living in Moorhead.

One of 3300 Moorhead State students

The man in action . . . finds plenty to keep him that way at Moorhead State College . . . Studies are punctuated with such a variety of action that every student finds a way to relax, let tensions escape, enjoy others . . .

All points of view . . . from June to September . . . from summer session to vacation, seventy-eight year old Moorhead State College presents a study in progress and promotion of intellectual development. Truly an alma mater that offers so much, it must reflect . . . your point of view.

"We Twenty-Twoers would rather fight than switch!"

The Rain In

Bye-bye bucks to buy books

A friend is someone who'll share his umbrella even if his left ear gets wet.

Freshmen and counselors were the first to make the scene for Welcome Week, September 13-17, 1965.

Unloading cars in the rain, climbing stairs, meeting new friends, meeting old friends, group pep and posters, endless instructions . . .

Moorhead Is Mainly In September

"I hope she gets here with the money."

... rain, a gym filled with milling card seekers, closed classes, and parting with summer's hard-earned cash started fall quarter.

Try To Remember

Nominations, election, five finalists, election, and a sublimely happy queen began 1965 Homecoming, October 21-24. Glenn Yarbrough's folk singing and the Cleveland Playhouse presentation of "Uncle Vanya" continued the activity.

One Memories Of Medieval Pageantry

Pages led the parade through cold, cloudy and windy Moorhead. Organization luncheons, mums and red ribbons, grid victory over St. Cloud, and the music of Hub Land's orchestra were important parts of Homecoming at Moorhead State.

Though half a world away, Viet Nam seemed closer as draft calls reached the college campus, friends were sent to action, and those at home tried to understand the reason.

Participation In Political Issues Emphasized

Students sponsored and participated in a mock congress.

Senator Yarborough, Texas Democrat

Open forums, convocations, and banquets gave MSC students opportunity to discuss political trends with representatives of both parties. Minnesota Republican Odin Langen, Lt. Gov. Sandy Keith, Rep. Clark MacGregor, State Democrat Chairman George Farr and mayors from Moorhead and Fargo were on campus between November 1 and 5. Politics was part of fall at Moorhead State.

The second annual Greek Week was held November 15-20, 1965, to familiarize students with the four sororities and the three fraternities on campus. The week began with an open house. The following day, a carnival was held to promote interest in Greeks. A formal dance in Kise Commons climaxed the week.

Famed Florida

Fraternities sponsored booths at Greek Week Carnival.

Fastbacks Fill Flora Frick

January 18-22 marked Turtle Week, a new event at MSC, sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. It began with an informal banquet for all turtle trainers who were presented with "Florida Fastback" mud turtles and turtle training kits. After a busy week of preparations, 24 organizations gathered in Flora Frick for the main event of the week, the turtle race. Trophies were awarded to the best cheering section and the best decorated turtle. Other awards were given for the most athletic, the gourmet turtle of the year, best lover and the slowest turtle. The dance following the turtle race had considerably more motion.

Transforming drifts into sculptures, growing beards and letting imaginations loose with the Abominable Snowman costumes were all ways of avoiding the winter slump during Snow Week, February 15-20. Las Vegas night, sponsored by Iota Alpha, was a good risk for entertainment, as was the on-campus talent contest, "Cavorting Capers," sponsored by the Food Service. An Abominable Hop was held after Friday night's big event, the wrestling match between MSC and Superior State College. The Snow Ball and a ski trip rounded out the mid-winter weekend.

Second place—Sigma Tau Gamma

Winter Had A Relapse In March

Ice-coated sidewalks, sudden falls, ski-doo's, unbelievable drifts, school cancelled for two days, postponed senate elections, objects sailing through the air, wet gloves . . . this was winter at Moorhead State.

Dahl Hall is now the oldest women's residence on campus, although it was constructed in 1957. Three floors of music, chatter, and a little studying face the new loop parking lot that serves three dormitories.

Used for the first time in the fall of 1965, Grantham Hall houses 204 students. It was named after Mrs. Virginia Grantham who taught at MSC until she passed away the spring of 1964.

Dorm Living

Is An Education In Other People

Away from the roar of the crowd.

Ballard Hall has everything for the on-campus man, from vending machines to balconies to jump from during a blizzard. Its government includes a council and J-board similar to the other dormitories.

Snarr Hall housed only men this year after a season as a co-educational dorm. It provides rooms for laundry, study, TV, and lounging. Mr. Marvin Fink is the head resident of Snarr, assisted by counselors, which are a part of all four dorms on campus.

Dorm life rings of loud laughter, no privacy, eating at Kise, fire alarms, and busy telephones. It is an education in other people, their habits, schedules and quirks. Students living at home miss the friendships of dorm living and the benefits of a borrowed wardrobe and transportation.

Spring

"No duck hunting—save our wetlands"

Parents saw the college presented from various points of view as departments and organizations sponsored displays on Parents' Day. The second annual event for parents was held Friday, May 20, 1966. Scheduled at a strategic time, parents could attend the Honors Convocation Thursday evening and the songfest on the weekend.

Two views of college meet.

Wrestles And Wins Over Winter

Spring and Songfest are synonymous at MSC. May 20-21 found fourteen acts competing under the theme "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." The grinning native on the left represents the Sinfonian's "Madagascar Madness" that won first place. Alpha Phi's scientist and "A World Is A World Is A World" took second, with Alpha Delta Pi taking third, viewing the world through the eyes of a dog.

Suddenly there are five reference books left to read, article summaries to write, bibliographies to compile, lesson plans and units to hand in. ## Must Be Those Graduation Exercises

Throughout the nation till the truth be spread that sets men free."

June 10, 1966, was a windy cap and gown day for 368 graduates. Dean Maurice Townsend gave his farewell address "The Quality Of American Leadership," to the capacity crowd. When one thinks of the time, money, and credits, it's a long walk to Nemzeck to pick up the symbol of a degree. But thinking of hours in the snack bar, late hours, that quarter of sack lunches while student teaching, stagecraft, leisurely walks to no place particular, or an unexpected A makes the lapse of time but a golden memory that's fun to think about.

Dean Of General Studies Retires

Miss Delsie Holmquist was Dean of General Studies, chairman of humanities, and a professor of literature. The General Studies curriculum is a very important part of Moorhead State's program, for it is designed to prepare all youth for the common activities and responsibilities of life in our society.

During the 1965-66 academic year Dean Holmquist was chairman of the Faculty Senate Committee and chairman of the Advisory Committee to the President of the college. Miss Holmquist is a graduate of Colorado College and of the University of Chicago. She has done graduate work at the University of California and the University of Chicago.

She has been on the faculty of Moorhead State since 1929. As Dean of Holmquist retires, her basic view toward students involves seeing each individual as fellow human beings.

Mr. Youngquist and Bob Aldrich guess which end is up.

Studios on third floor MacLean are filled with plaster dust, paint rags and art majors who anticipate moving to the Fine Arts building upon its completion. The department added Mr. Laske and Miss O'Donnell to the staff this year. Miss O'Donnell also teaches art at the Campus School. Provision is made for concentrated study in art history, commercial art, crafts, ceramics, painting, sculpture and printmaking. Art exhibits were displayed every month in the library as well as in MacLean.

The Business and Economics Departments are headed by Dr. Paul Heaton and Dr. James Murray, respectively. There are six different programs offered. Each requires a core of courses providing a major in Business Administration, to be combined with a second major or combination of majors. A course in hotel and motel management is in the process of being established. A new trend in the business department is holding institutes for lawyers who attend lectures by local doctors, giving them practical experience in their field.

The education department, under the direction of Dr. Robbins, includes five departments: Audio-Visual Education, Campus School, Professional Education, Special Education, and Student Teaching.

Dr. Robbins is also chairman of a new state committee to set requirements for five years of teacher preparation for certification. Higher standards of selective admission to teacher education curriculums have been set for students entering teacher education. To provide more opportunity for student teaching, all teacher education students are required to take an orientation course in elementary or secondary teaching.

To provide for greater specialization in elementary and secondary teaching, students in these two curriculums are now separated into three of the five required professional education courses. This separation assigns courses which are more consistent with the instructor's training and experience. To strengthen the specialization segment of the teacher education program, three important changes have been made: 1) elementary teacher education students must complete an area of emphasis equal to a minor in one teaching area; 2) secondary teacher education students must establish a grade point average of 2.5 in their major field as a requirement for admission to student teaching; 3) the number of required methods courses in the elementary teacher education program has been reduced. To broaden the offerings of the department of education, a new major in guidance and counseling leading to the M.S. Ed. degree was added in the fall of 1965. Present and future matters of concern to the department include planning for a new center for educational development complex to include a 600 pupil laboratory school, study of the elementary teacher education program, and organization of graduate level programs.

The department has formed an English Club, has built up its record collection, and supervises the publication of Convivio, Moorhead State's literary magazine. Margo Larson is the faculty adviser for the magazine, which features contributions by both students and faculty members. During the year Dr. Dille was named associate academic dean.

Administratively under the English Department, Journalism acquired its first full-time instructor this year. Two new courses were developed: public relations and advanced reporting. In co-operation with the Audio-Visual department, basic photography was taught with a journalistic emphasis. Two journalism students worked with the Campus High Newspaper. Several students enrolled in newswriting labs and worked on the college newspaper and yearbook, both advised by Mr. Schreiber.

The library science minor was reorganized during this year to offer more courses which are not strictly school oriented for students planning to work in county and public libraries. The revision of the curriculum was done to agree with the masters degree in library science at the University of Minnesota.

Livingston Lord Library contains modern facilities for study including a curriculum laboratory and a record listening room. In 1965-66, $66,000 were spent for new books.

Physical fitness for all students is one of the aims of the physical education department. Many graduates are coaches as Moorhead State ranks fourth and fifth with University of Minnesota Duluth in placing coaches in Minnesota public schools. The graduate work program is being organized by Dr. Robert MacLeod. Centered in Nemzek Hall and Flora Frick Hall, the department schedules a full inter-collegiate program of competitive sports.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Departments' Facilities Continue

The industrial arts department, under the direction of Dr. Wegner, is mainly a source of preparation for future industrial arts teachers, although there are sub-headings of industrial technology and pre-engineering. Six basic areas are explored: woodworking, power electricity, drafting, graphic arts, and metalworking. Mr. Walker received a $1200 award from the Lincoln Foundation for the construction and development of a light-weight multi-purpose saw designed for use in metalworking shops.

Over 200 students at MSC are math majors, working toward a B.S., B.A. or M.S. degree. Last spring the state legislature allocated money for an IBM 1620 digital computer. Astronomy has been added in the department.

Start From

Dr. Harmon and Mr. Harris admire the harpsichord which they constructed.

The music department offers a major in wind instruments, string instruments, vocal music and piano, plus a broad music major.

This year the concert choir performed concerts with the orchestra, a trend being developed at Moorhead State. The choir went on a spring tour to Winnipeg. The concert band and stage bands performed at several high schools, using student representatives to tell prospective students about the college.

Entertainment by the stage bands was occasionally provided at convocations and during supper at the food service building. A pep band supported all home games.

The varsity choir gave a concert fall and spring quarters, along with the orchestra. The orchestra was an important support in the operas, a new experience for the music department.

BIOLOGY

Used For Research

Niva Murphy goes through one of the steps in preparing a slide.

Three new departments were created this year from the former natural sciences department. Three separate courses of study have always been offered, but the separation now allows greater efficiency in each department.

Additions were a masters degree and graduate assistantships. Research is becoming more important and grants were awarded. Half of the biology graduates are going into teaching while others go into medicine and industry.

Dr. Frank Noice, who has been serving as chairman of the science department since 1959, is now chairman of the biology department and is president of the Minnesota Academy of Science. Dr. Condell was elected to Who's Who among American Women in Colleges and Universities. National Science Foundation Grants were awarded to Dr. Oscar Johnson for research on bird kidneys and to Dr. Bartel for study of tropical diseases in Latin and South America.

CHEMISTRY

Three Departments Formed From

The chairman of the new chemistry department is Dr. Sol Shulman. The department is approximately as large as its parent department of natural science was five years ago. The chemistry curricula are undergoing study and revision in effort to provide the undergraduate with an adequate introduction to the field in the face of rapidly expanding knowledge. The chemistry faculty of MSC firmly believes in the education of chemists who also have a broad background as citizens of our community.

PHYSICS

Dr. William Alling, specialist in theoretical physics, is chairman of the physics department. A creative approach to the presentation of physics was used to give greater exposure of the subject matter at the undergraduate level. A new course in quantum mechanics was offered spring quarter to senior physics majors.

Physics, chemistry, biology and scientific methods compose the "science sequence," twelve hours of required general studies. Hundreds of electroscopes, telegraphs, and crystal experiments flooded the science offices as students completed their projects.

Prof. Jay Evett was awarded a National Science Foundation Faculty Fellowship for one year of graduate study.

The M.A. degree has been introduced to history department this year. Mr. Smemo received a Danforth Grant from the University of Minnesota which will be used toward his doctor's degree.

SOCIOLOGY- ANTHROPOLOGY

The MSC sociology-anthropology department is the only one of the Minnesota State Colleges that is a member of the National Council of Social Work Education. It is also the only State College department with membership in the Minnesota Conference of Undergraduate Social Work Education. Because of this accreditation, approximately 33 students tutor youth on probation from juvenile court. Dr. Margaret Reed was appointed to a steering committee to study young offenders and their treatment in Clay County.

Dr. Kendrick appeared as a guest lecturer at the University of Minnesota. He took part in a series of weekly discussions on "Human Rights and World Law." Dr. Estes was a main speaker at the Model United Nations at NDSU. Dr. Villanueva is a member of an advisory commission to the Fargo mayor.

Theatre, forensics and speech pathology and audiology constitute a diversified Speech Department.

Students in theatre present three major productions during the school year, and participate in The Straw Hat Players which produce eight weekly plays during the summer sessions.

An intensive forensics program is centered on the practical art of speaking and studying the history of rhetorical theory. The Debate Team has been awarded high ratings at tournaments throughout the year. The question which they debated was concerned with law enforcement agencies in the United States.

Serving as therapists under the guidance of certified personnel, students of speech pathology and audiology receive practical experience in this growing area.

Dr. D. J. Hanson, head of the Speech Department, directs the theatre productions and was appointed to the Educational Advisory Council of the Minnesota Theatre Company.

Health Service Checks Student Bodies

Miss Evangeline
Lindquist, R.N.

Located on 16th Street, the Health Service provides a breezy walk for those of ill health. Doctors are available for check-ups. Three nurses, Evangeline Lindquist, Wava Thompson, and Myrtle Eckstrand are kept busy taking temps and blood pressure, checking throats and pulses of hundreds of students. The records get a real workout as students prepare for admission to the teaching curriculum and apply for student teaching each quarter. Miss Lindquist also serves as the campus school nurse in the forenoons.

Campus cop, Ragner Yterler, folds up for the night.

The most popular spot on campus three times every day is Kise Commons, the food service across the street from the dorms. This year salads were served at a table apart from the regular line. Three flavors of pop were added to the beverage list and a third entree increased the menu choice. Kise patrons were treated with a weekly picnic if weather permitted during spring quarter. Mr. Clint Stacy manages the cafeteria, one of the finest of the ARA Slater Food Services.

Michele, a middle-aged barge owner in modern day France, was concerned about the infidelity of his wife, Georgette, who was greatly attracted to Luigi, a young stevedore. In the final, violent scene of Il Toborro (The Cloak), Luigi met death at the hands of Michele when he tried to board the barge for a rendezvous with Georgette.

Suor Angelica told of a girl who had been forced into a convent after bearing an illegitimate child. After seven years, Sister Angelica's aunt, the Princess, visited her to get her signature renouncing claims for the family treasure. The visit brought forth the news of the death of Sister Angelica's son. In sorrow, Sister Angelica drank a potion which brought her to her death in a scene which implied the miracle of redemption and the reuniting of Angelica with her son.

Theatre Presented "Dylan" For

The comedy-drama, Dylan, was presented April 21, 22, and 23, 1966. The play, based on the last years in the life of Welsh poet Dylan Thomas, retold the story of the stormy poet's triumphs and ultimate disaster in a lecture tour in America in the early 1950's. Much of the play's most violent action was created by the bitterness and anger of Thomas' Irish wife, Caitlen, portrayed by Pamela Triggs. The title role was played by John Friesen.

The orchestra had a full year of rehearsal and performances, although it has been organized for only two years. In the fall a joint concert was given with the varsity choir, directed by Mr. Jorgenson. Winter quarter the orchestra added to the musical endeavor of the two operas, "Sister Angelica" and "The Cloak." It accompanied the concert choir and went on tour with them in the spring. The orchestra also presented a concerto concert and is directed by Dr. Richard Fischer.

Directed by Dr. Maude Wenck, the Euterpe Singers presented a Christmas concert, featuring a cantata, and a Lenten Concert, "The Seven Last Words". Each spring the group makes a one day tour, performing at two high schools. This organization is taken as an activity and the membership changes each quarter.

Jim Burke, Dennis Heiberg, Steve Johnson, David Morberg and Rich Reiter represented the Dragons in the conference meet held at the Keller Golf Course in St. Paul. Other lettermen were Gary Rudeen, Rodney Samson and Joe Sauer. The Dragons practice and play their home matches on the Moorhead Country Club Course. Orlow Nokken and Dr. T. E. ## Four National Sororities On Campus

Busy phone, busy girl, busy sorority

Alpha Delta Pi is the world's oldest sorority for women. The MSC chapter went national in 1965. ADPi's special service project is helping those with muscular dystrophy throughout the country. The local chapter won second place for scholarship among the sororities and first place in the 1965 Sig Tau songfest. Carol Herseth attended the 1966 Alpha Delta Pi National Convention in Florida.

Formerly Psi Delta Kappa, Alpha Phi is the newest national sorority on campus. The mothers of Alpha Phi's have a club which sponsors projects for the sorority. Some programs were exchanges with the Alpha Phi sorority of UND and a wig showing by a local hair salon. The chapter sponsors service projects at rest homes and Children's Village.

Sororities Continually Rushing

Business looks good for Gamma Phi's

Delta Zeta was the first national social sorority to be established at MSC. The objectives of the sorority include uniting its members together in the bonds of sincere friendship and stimulating one another in the pursuit of knowledge. Delta Zeta earned the traveling scholarship trophy this year for having the highest average of the sororities. A scholarship bracelet is awarded to the DZ with the highest scholastic standing. At the Province Day in April, seven chapters of Delta Zeta became acquainted and exchanged ideas concerning group functions.

An international sorority, Gamma Phi Beta was formerly Pi Mu Phi at MSC. Founded on Halloween Eve, 1905, the "witches" still celebrate the birthday of their sorority with a Halloween Party. Gamma Phi's have money-making projects for a camp for underprivileged girls and a Parents' Day tea. They participate in all college activities, this year winning the turtle race and the abominable snowman contest.

The oldest fraternity on campus, the Old Order of Owls was organized in 1901. Since that time, almost eight hundred men have passed through the two degrees of initiation. Each fall the Owls hold their traditional Autumn Ball and select a sweetheart, Queen Livonia, named after their house mother.

Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity sponsored a blood drive for Vietnam troops. The all-campus Sig Tau Songfest raises money for scholarships. Their sweetheart is crowned at the annual White Rose Ball.

The highlight of each year's activity is the annual Sweetheart Ball. They have been represented by the Iota Epsilon chapter at MSC since 1962.

The professional industrial arts fraternity, Iota Alpha, sponsored a blood drive to supply blood to American soldiers in Viet Nam on March 29 and 30. Ninety-six pints of blood were donated by students. Hagen Hall is the main gathering place for those in Iota Alpha, as they took part in several college activities.

Fraternities Give All-American Concert

Phi Mu Alpha-Sinfonia is a national professional music fraternity for men who express an interest in music. Its goals are to advance music in America, to stimulate interest among music students, and foster brotherhood and loyalty among its members. The fraternity chose its first sweetheart in 1965, Miss Hermondson. "Let There Be Music" was the theme of this year's All-American Concert given with their sister fraternity. It presented aspects of American music and composers.

Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity is for women who major or minor in music or have an area of concentration in music. Its purpose is to promote the cause of music throughout the world. The Gamma XI chapter has monthly musicals at the home of one of the patronesses. It shares a room in Weld with brother fraternity, the Sinfonians.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Conferences Highlight Groups' Year

Bruce Gilbertson, Wynetta Bryson, Mary Longstreth, and Keith Hanson scan some books from the Wesley bookshelves.

The Wesley Foundation of MSC, a branch of the National Methodist Student Movement, gives Methodist students of MSC and Concordia opportunity for worship, recreation and fellowship. This year is the first that Wesley conducted their meetings in the recently purchased house at 1313 Ninth Avenue South. It is also the first year the foundation had an associate director, Mary Z. Longstreth. In April the group sponsored a Senior Day to interest incoming freshmen in the group. There was a state open house for the Women's Society of Christian Service.

INTER-VARSITY

Inter-Varsity, an inter-denominational group, provided several week-end programs in area churches. Fall and spring conferences were held at Detroit Lakes and Paynesville, Minnesota. A spring banquet honoring graduating members has become an annual event. During the summer the officers will attend Bear Trap Ranch in Colorado.

Catholic students are welcome to the Newman House on 11th Street for weekly discussions and studies. The group sponsored two pancake suppers during the year.

MSC'S Lutheran Student Association belongs to the North Central Region of the National Lutheran Student Association. One weekend the group attended a basketball game at St. Cloud State, toured and attended a service at St. Johns University. L.S.A. members participated in a regional retreat at Bemidji and a camping trip to Itasca State Park.

Gamma Delta is an inter-collegiate organization for Lutheran students of the Missouri Synod. They met every Thursday in the basement of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church. By next year the students hope to have a new room. The main projects this year are centered around furnishing their prospective meeting place. Spring camp, spring convention for the chapters of the tri-state area and carwashes were spring quarter activities.

The Council of Religious Affairs, composed of representatives from all religious organizations, planned Thanksgiving and Christmas convocations. Rather than having Religious Emphasis Week, the Council brought Tony Fontane, gospel singer and recording artist, for a sacred concert on January 20, 1966

KMSC campus radio station is owned and operated by the students of MSC, acting as an entertainment media and information outlet. As a part of KMSC's promotion for Snow Week, Don Formanek, MSC sophomore and assistant program director for the station, broke the old collegiate marathon record of 63 hours for radio broadcasting by staying on the air for 65 hours. KMSC supplied a daily news release to the tables in Kise Commons.

Dave Bjornstad,

Advisor Mr. Schreiber double checks before signing his RAS.

Just the sounds of the words layouts, proof sheets, trip to Dallas, stirred a strange instinct within me and I found myself committed to a colossal undertaking—editing a college yearbook. There is something about unexplored territory that beckons me, but during the year I sometimes wondered if I hadn't gotten myself into a wilderness because of the many firsts for the 1966 Dragon.

Fall delivery of the book was a marked change, but it made color pictures, inclusion of spring activities, and higher quality coverage possible. It relieved a certain amount of pressure and each deadline was met, another change. This was also the first time a journalism instructor has advised the yearbook, which was a change that made changes. The department section, with faculty and organizations grouped according to subject area involved hours of extra thought.

But a yearbook takes hours, and it takes thought. It takes dedicated photographers like Roger Swenson, lenient janitors like Morrie Marsten, understanding roommates like Ardith, Eileen, and Karen. And it takes a student body to keep the year lively, to show up for pictures, and to consider their 1966 yearbook as a year brought into focus.

THE MOORHEAD STATE MISTIC

Satisfaction Is Printer's Ink

Editor Sharon Sundre plans a layout for the final issue.

All the bustling and hurrying, all the long hours and late deadlines, and all the curt refusals for interviews which are a part of a newspaper's week, are somehow erased from mind each Thursday morning when 3000 copies of the Mistic are put outside M206 for the students and faculty of MSC.

With the arrival of the 8-page paper, a deep feeling of pride is experienced by those of us who are involved with editing and writing for a weekly publication.

But before the pride, interviews, careful examination of facts, and hours of writing, rewriting and editing must be done.

When the stories are ready, they are taken to Richtman's Printing and Lithographing in Fargo, where linotype operator Roy Ward sets type for each issue. By Tuesday evening, the stories are done, the type is set and the final page layouts have been completed. On Wednesday, the editors and Richtman's shop foreman spend the day making up the Mistic.

Herb, And Thursdays

Advertising manager Steve Jackson, and business manager John Stone prepare an ad layout for the 8-page newspaper.

During the past year, five special issues of the Mistic were printed: the Freshman Week edition, a special Christmas issue, special supplements for the Student Senate election, and Parent's Day, and, of course, the April 1 Misfit. They all contributed to making Thursday a special day, a day when we could sit back and be proud before we started over for another week.

Herb Daul, shop foreman at Richtman's, waits for managing editor Mike Grieve to write a picture cutline.

Editor Sharon Sundre ponders the character count of a headline while Herb Daul waits patiently.

The Circle K Club is a service organization for college men operating on the campus and is similar to Kiwanis and other service clubs. The MSC Circle K campus club conducted year-round campus tours, took part in the Homecoming parade, attended district conventions and has a majority of
